ABSTRACT

This study aimed to determine the training needs assessment of Barangay Tanod in the (3) three Barangay of Escalante City, Negros Occidental. The research design employed in this study was descriptive method. The researcher used purposive sampling technique. The respondents of the study were the (48) forty-eight Barangay Tanod in Escalante City. The data in this study were obtained using the researcher’s-made questionnaire intended to determine the profile and training needs of Barangay Tanod. Frequency, rank and percentage were the statistical tool used to determine problems proposed. The findings revealed that the training and seminar needs of Barangay Tanod are the following: how to make spot report, trafficking in person, investigation, how to make blotter reports, self-defense, first aid, security and safety, rescue and operation, search and rescue, firefighting, and patrol. It was concluded that the Barangay Tanod needs the following trainings based on the result and it was recommended that the College of Criminal Justice Education would make a comprehensive project proposal and budgetary requirements to propose and to conduct trainings based on the needs of Barangay Tanod, and may extend their services in Barangay Tanod choosing them as an adopted community of the College of Criminal Justice Education in their extension services.

Introduction

Solutions to problems are like keys in lock, they don’t work if they don’t fit, and if the solutions aren’t the right ones, the problems don’t get solved. (Maga & Pipe 1970). Training Needs Assessment (TNA) gives guidance for a productive training event. Training Needs Assessment clarifies whether training is the solution to a problem. A Training Needs Analysis (TNA) is the method of determining if a training need exists and if it does, what training is required to fill the gap.”
The Barangay Tanod brigade shows an important role in the development and progress of the Barangay. It is one of the implementing mechanisms of the Barangay Peace and order Committee which has the primary task of safeguarding that peace and order prevail in the Barangay. Police officers nowadays face a wide range of problems as far as peacekeeping concern and one of the chief constraints of the effectiveness of the police is dealing with crimes, therefore, more and crime needs the traditional response of citizenry. Violence and insecurity is to tackle those challenges through a wholesome approach by addressing root causes by a coordinated action of stakeholders and with the municipal/barangay government executives to take to the lead. Civil society becomes the convener groups, the police does the leg works and the community cooperating to fight crime. Meaningful programs on crime prevention and suspension should be endorse and most be done aggressively.

Likewise, the Department in Interior and Local Government (DILG) in its memorandum circular No. 2003 -02 viewed that the maintenance of peace and order is a key factor of the development of the community and the nation. Certain stakeholders must be held responsible nonetheless, local government unit’s/barangay council will play the municipal the principal role is carrying and mobilized of certain individual or groups of barangay tanods. Tanods are "front liners in the preparation and response to any type of atrocities, public disorders, emergencies and even disasters or man-made calamities that threaten peace and order and public safety. Its function solely for community-based activities, info campaign in support to PNP’s anti-criminality effort, crime prevention and on-the-spot conflict resolution.

In this regard, this study assessed the needs assessment of Barangay Tanod as basis the College of Criminal Justice Education for sustainable Extension Services.

Statement of the Problem

The main purpose of the study was to determine the needs assessment of Barangay Tanod. Specifically, it sought to determine the following:

- What is the Profile of Barangay Tanod terms of;
- Age;
• Civil Status;
• Gender;
• Length of Service;
• Length of stay in the Barangay;
• Educational Background; and
• Training and Seminars Attended;
• What are the training needs of Barangay Tanod
• Based on the result what program intervention may proposed.

Methodology:

Research Method

The descriptive method was used in the study. Ardales (1992) also contends that descriptive research is appropriate for studies which aim to find out what prevail in the present; conditions or relationships held opinion and beliefs, processes and effects, and developing trends.

According to Borg and Gall (1983) the specific method of investigation is primarily concerned with findings “what is.” Sevilla (1992) also contends that the primary objective of a detailed investigation is to describe the nature of the present situation and to interpret the functional relationship between variable involved.

Respondents of the Study

The respondents of this study are the eleven (11) Barangay Tanod in Barangay Hda. Fe, sixteen (16) Barangay tanod in Brgy. Jonobjonob and twenty-one (21) Barangay Tanod in Brgy. Balintawak thus, giving the total of forty-eight (48) respondents in this study.

Locale of the Study

The research study was conducted in Barangay Hda. Fe, Jonob Jonob and Balintawak in Escalante City Negros Occidental Philippines.
Data Gathering Instruments

The instrument used in this study was self-administered questionnaire where the respondents were oriented to answer the question. The instrument consisted of Respondents Profile, and Training and Seminar Needs.

Validity of the Research Instrument

In this study, to insure that the validity of the instrument used, it was subjected to jury for face and content validity. The jury validated and evaluated the item in the research instrument. Their suggestions and comments were followed for improvement. Three experts on research instrumentation were requested to validate the research instrument using the validation form of Good and Scates in order to obtain the main score.

Reliability of the Research Instrument

A data gathering instrument is said to be reliable if it has the ability to elicit, stable, consistent and dependable data from the respondents. In order to establish the reliability of the instrument, it was subjected to a dry run. Dry run of the instrument was conducted in Barangay Tanod of Barangay Old Sagay, Sagay City.

Sampling Techniques

The researcher uses purposive sampling techniques. Those Barangay Tanod who are available during the conduct of the study are respondents of the study.

II. BACKGROUND / RATIONALE:

The Barangay Tanod brigade plays an important role in the development and progress of the Barangay. It is one of the implementing mechanisms of the Barangay Peace and order Committee which has the primary task of ensuring that peace and order prevail in the Barangay. Peace and order in local communities translates to a sense of shared feeling of security among the citizen’s people who have the sense of security are more likely to participate in the community activities that aim to improve the livelihood and wellbeing of all. In all this sense the maintenance of peace and order is part of the foundation of genuine community based development.

Chapter 2 Section 387 (b) of the Local Government code provide the Sangguniang Barangay may form community brigades and create such other positions or offices as may be deemed necessary to carry out purposes of the Barangay government in accordance with the needs of public service, subject to the budgetary limitations and personal services prescribed under title five Book II of this code.

Chapter 4 Section 391 No. 16 of the same Code, mandates the Sangguniang Barangay as the legislative body of the Barangay to provide the organization of community brigade Barangay Tanod or community service unit as maybe necessary.

In 2004, there were over 700,000 tanods. The number, however, varies from city to city and barangay to barangay. Tanods are "front liners in the preparation and response to any type of atrocities, public disorders, emergencies and even disasters or man-made calamities that threaten peace and order and public safety. Its function solely for community-based activities, info campaign in support to PNP’s anti-criminality effort, crime prevention and on-the-spot conflict resolution.

Thus, there is a need to train our Barangay Tanod as preparation and response to peace and order, crime prevention and on-the-spot conflict resolution in our community.
